The Disney Channel says it (21) three teenagers to star in its U.S. comedy pilot "Austin & Ally"

The series (22) come out this year. Disney said they were (23) candidates this year (24) the end, they managed to come to a decision.

If everything (25) well, Ross Lynch, Laura Marano and Raini Rodriguez will headline the project, which is to begin production (26) month in Hollywood. Lynch, 14, (27) appeared in Disney XD's short-form series "Moises Rules." He and his four siblings are members of the musical group R5. Marano, 15, lent her voice to characters in the animated features "Finding Nemo" and "Ice Age: The Meltdown." People say it is high time she (28) a good role. Rodriguez, 17, had a supporting role in "Paul Blart Mall Cop." Her brother, Rico, stars in ABC-TV's "Modern Family," which (29) become the most watched show."

The pilot for "Austin & Ally," in consideration for a Disney Channel series to premiere later (30) year, was created and executive-produced (31) Kevin Kopelow and Heath Seifert, (32) credits include "Good Burger," "Keenan & Kel," "Sonny With a Chance" and "JONAS."

The multi-camera comedy follows the unlikely partnership between two opposites -- Austin, an extroverted musician/singer, and Ally, a brilliant but shy songwriter -- and (33) two best friends, Trish and Dex, a synopsis said. Lynch will play Austin, Marano will play Ally and Rodriguez will play Trish. The role of Dex is to be decided (34), the Disney Channel said.

The more fingers you have, the (35) talented you can become.

A baby (36) in San Francisco has six perfectly formed (37) functional fingers and toes on his hands and feet, (38) doctors at Saint Luke's Hospital. Kamani Hubbard's extra digits look (39) normal they weren't noticed (40) first, said his mother, Miryoki Gross, of Daly City. Extra digits run in the father's side of the family, said dad Kris Hubbard, but (41) have been so perfectly developed. Kris Hubbard himself (42) nubs of sixth fingers removed (43) child because they were non-functioning, reported KTVU-TV, San Francisco.

That (44) be the case with his son, born three weeks (45), because Kamani's fingers and toes function perfectly, said Dr. Michael Treece. "It's merely an interesting and beautiful variation (46) a worrisome thing," said Treece. "Imagine what sort of a pianist a 12-fingered person (47)" or flamenco guitarist or typist, he said. "I just want him (48) what greatness will be in store for him," said Kris Hubbard, noting famous polydactyly people include former Florida Marlins' pitcher Antonio Alfonseca and blues guitarist Hound Dog Taylor, (49) died some years ago. So what is the moral? It is no use (50) about defects of your body.

Hong Kong Man to Buy Old Ship

A Hong Kong businessman has offered to pay about $7.7 million for the British aircraft carrier HMS Invincible. ...(1)... The South China Morning Post reported that Lam Kin-bong made the bid at an online auction for the decommissioned ship. ...(2)...

Lam, who operates the popular Wing Wah chain of Chinese restaurants in Britain, offered to pay five million pounds ($7.7 million) in the auction, which stopped taking bids Wednesday. If he wins the auction, Lam plans to tow the 22,000-tonne Invincible to the southern Chinese city of Zhuhai, near Hong Kong and Macau, and turn it into a school. ...(3)... Lam could not be reached for comment on Friday.

The entrepreneur told the Post that he had no plans to use the ship for military purposes, amid US concerns about Beijing's military build-up. ...(4)... Lam said another option is to berth the vessel in the English city of Liverpool and turn it into "a school to boost the understanding of China and the Chinese in Britain".

A British defence ministry spokeswoman told the Post that the vessel would be stripped of all its components. "In effect, whoever buys equipment like this is buying a shell", she added.

...(5)...

- A) She played a key role in the 1982 Falkland Islands conflict between Argentina and Britain.
- B) Lam wants to help foster communication and cultural ties between China and Britain.
- C) He hopes to buy it in order to turn it into an international school in China.
- D) Lam was appointed Justice of Peace and received the Medal of Honour.
- E) So his intentions are purely commercial and have nothing to do with the military.
- F) So those who are concerned about the ship's military use, have worried in vain.

Dragon Tattoos

When it comes to choosing a tattoo design, dragons are the most popular of all mythological creatures to be picked. Dragons are usually shown as wise, powerful and free. The Vikings used to carve dragons onto the prow of their ships, as they believed that the dragons would grant them cunning and supernatural sights. The Chinese believed that the dragons were the son of Gods and that they were their protectors. However, in the West, dragons were seen as destroyers, who razed villages to the ground and were the selfish guards of huge amount of wealth. In Japan, dragons were seen as a caring husband and a father, while in Russia, they were shown as creatures with three heads and seven tails. Just like dragons, the tribal dragon tattoos for men as well as women also symbolize different things.

A dragon is nothing but a fantasy creature, that is said to have a serpent or reptile like body, sharp claws and power to emit fire through its mouth. The concepts and beliefs related to dragons differ in different parts of the world. Moreover, dragons are classified into various groups. Eastern dragons and Western dragons are two basic types of dragons. An eastern dragon is said to be God's messenger who protects the mass, while a western dragon is believed to be an evil spirit. The Eastern dragon was worshipped by people living in the eastern hemisphere for quite a long period of time. Japanese and Chinese dragons are two important types of Eastern Dragons. All these dragons have typical features and colours that depict unique meanings associated with them.

In Chinese culture the dragon is made up of nine entities, where it is a chimera between the head of camel, the eyes of a demon, the ears of a cow, the horns of a stag, the neck of a snake, its belly a clam's, its claws that of an eagle, while the soles of its feet are that of a tiger, and the 117 scales that cover its body are that of a carp. Thus drawing these dragons is a very difficult job for the tattooer but is also a test of his creativity. The Chinese dragon tattoos consist of dragons with four claws and if anyone used the five claw dragon other than the Emperor, he was put to death. These dragon sleeve tattoo designs are very colorful and they look vibrant on sleeves. The tribal dragon sleeve tattoos are however black in color and they can be combined with scripts in various tribal languages.

Unlike the East, dragons within the West had been considered to be evil, destroyers of villages and lives, and abductors of women and kids. They generally look like the serpents with powerful muscular bodies, four strong legs, a head shaped like a wedge, sharp pointed teeth, elaborate ears, horns, spines running down their backs along with a tail like a rudder. They had big wings which helped them to fly up to high altitudes. Throughout the Middle Ages, brave knights fought these dragons, killed them and took over the protected treasures, or, as you most likely have seen in movies, saved the maiden in distress. Some individuals from the Western world believed that the dragons had been superior beings and also the individual who would slay them, became well-known. Some also said that eating the heart of a dragon gave you the capability to comprehend birds, or rubbing the dragon's blood against your skin, protects you from any type of stab wound. It's generally prison tattoo artists who ink the Western dragon tattoos for men. But at the most, individuals go for the Eastern dragon tattoos.

To sum up, you will find many tribal dragon tattoo designs from which you should select the one that complements your personality. Even the location of the tattoo can play an essential role in giving it a striking appearance. Basically, the tribal tattoos are bold, yet graceful, with thick and black curves, and this is the reason why they're so well-liked among both men and women.

Christmas in Milan

When in (0) Rome, do as the Romans do. When in Milan... Well, (1) year I spend a long weekend in December with my girlfriends in Milan, Italy's fashion capital, for Christmas shopping, fine dining and fun, fun, fun. While there (2) many pretty Christmas markets around Europe, (3) European city beats Milan for shopping and nightlife (4) my view. Anytime I'm in Milan, I meet Francesca, a local Milanese who is also a shopping guide (5) knows everything about emerging designers, classic fashion houses, vintage jewelry, (6).

In the past years she (7) helped me find the best Christmas gifts. After a day of shopping in Milan, I love to go back to the hotel and change, (8) head for an aperitif before dinner. For people-watching, try the Dolce & Gabbana Martini Bar. For an elegant dinner I personally love Il Ristorante Trussardi Alla Scala, it's a real (9) for a special occasion (10) meeting up with old girlfriends. The Milanese risotto by talented chef Andrea Berton (11) simply to die for.

..... (12) in Milan, especially if it is your first time, (13) miss the city's cultural offerings like Da Vinci's Last Supper, the Sforzesco castle, the bustling Brera quarter (full of boutiques), the striking Duomo. Hire a local city guide (14) you have limited time, as apart (15) the main sites, they will know the secret corners and will be versed in anecdotes (16) Milan's legends, colorful stories about scallywags and aristocrats, etc. (17) pamper your soul, go to La Scala theatre (you can also visit the museum with beautiful costumes from past operas) and as a fun lunchtime activity, why (18) enjoy a cooking class at Nicola Cavallaro? He is by (19) the best cook in the city. If you are looking (20) a destination for a Christmas shopping this year, I can highly recommend Milan!
